East Carolina University Black Alumni Chapter's Laura Marie Leary Courageous Leader Award
Annual award recognizes individuals who consistently exemplify the attributes of pioneers who have devoted their time and effort in servant leadership

Treasured Pirate Award

2016

East Carolina University

Award to recognize the special and unique contributions of ECU employees to the University.

Research Mentee

2007-2009

Summer Institute Program to Increase Diversity in Biomedical Research –
Functional Genomics of Blood Disorders Program at University of Texas at Dallas
Funding Agency: National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute

Predoctoral Fellowship

2005-2006

Human Development Interdisciplinary Training Grant, Carolina Consortium on Human Development at the Center for Developmental Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Funding Agency: National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD)

Royster Interdisciplinary Fellowship

2000-2005

for Graduate Study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Grounded in developmental and health psychology, my research is focused on improving the health and well-being of youth and young adults at risk for poor health outcomes, with a special focus on youth sickle cell disease, Black youth, and youth living in low resource environments.

Additional areas of research focus include:

- Acute and chronic pain
- Sleep
- Pediatric Health disparities

RESEARCH GRANTS

Principal Investigator

2018-2019

“Prevalence and Predictors of the Chronic Sickle Cell Pain Phenotype”
American Society of Hematology Bridge Grant,
(Total Costs: $150,000)

- Principal Investigator 2016-2017
 “The Effect of Sleep Patterns on Sickle Cell Pain Over Time”
 Interdisciplinary Research Award, East Carolina University
 (Total Costs: $13,050).
- Co-Investigator 2014-2016
 “Project Sickle CIA: Cultivating Informed Activated Adolescents with Sickle Cell”
 (PI: C. Jenerette)
 National Institute of Nursing Research (NINR)
 (Total Costs: $228,000)
- Principal Investigator 2010-2015
 “Using E-Diaries to Assess Sleep and Pain in Children with Sickle Cell Disease”
 National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute (NHLBI), K01 Mentored Career Development Award
 (Total Costs: $618,586).
- Principal Investigator 2008
 “Sleep in Children and Adolescents with Sickle Cell Disease”
 Department of Psychology, Summer Research Stipend Award
 East Carolina University
 (Total Costs: $8,000)
